

Sheridan College

SOURCE: Sheridan Scholarly Output, Research, and Creative Excellence

Reflective Teaching

Don Wightman Papers

2019

Museum Reflection

Don Wightman
Sheridan College

Follow this and additional works at: https://source.sheridancollege.ca/wightman_collection_reflective_teaching

Part of the Art and Design Commons

SOURCE Citation

Wightman, Don, "Museum Reflection" (2019). Reflective Teaching. 2.
https://source.sheridancollege.ca/wightman_collection_reflective_teaching/2

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-No Derivative Works 4.0 License. This Documentation is brought to you for free and open access by the Don Wightman Papers at SOURCE: Sheridan Scholarly Output, Research, and Creative Excellence. It has been accepted for inclusion in Reflective Teaching by an authorized administrator of SOURCE: Sheridan Scholarly Output, Research, and Creative Excellence. For more information, please contact source@sheridancollege.ca.

Don Wightman

MRA6160

ANIMATION RESEARCH

It is becoming obvious that many students are not attending the museum regularly.

However, more than half of both classes are attending and many have not missed at all. The regularly attending students should get credit for attending, I feel. Consequently, I have spoken to Tom Halley and he has agreed that I give special consideration to those students that attend and penalize those that do not - my marking in future will reflect this.

In future and starting immediately, I want all students to check with me in the Chinese Fresco Gallery before each morning or afternoon session. I will take attendance there and not on the bus. This way I can keep an accurate record. The Chinese Fresco Gallery offers some privacy from the mainstream and is never very full. Those students who do not travel by bus will also be able to get credit for attending.